DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claim 11 recites the limitation "the playing field" in claim. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

3. The claims 19-20 are generally narrative and indefinite, failing to conform with current U.S. practice. They appear to be a literal translation into English from a foreign document and are replete with grammatical and idiomatic errors.

In the absence of properly provided apparatus/environment it is not possible to practice a method claim. The structure of the apparatus is unclear in claims and it would not be possible to practice

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1-10,14-18 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Zaruba (2002/0109298A1).

Zaruba teaches a plurality of capsulated visible characters (abstract). Each game piece having it's strength written on a card at the bottom of the capsule (44).

6. Claims 19-20 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by a Chess game of Helfgott (3856309).

Helfgott teaches game pieces in a chess game move according to their powers on a playing surface. Applicant's claim is narrative and uses commonly used terminology liable to broad and reasonable interpretation.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

8. Claims 11-13 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Zaruba in view of Grossman (3904208) .

Zaruba teaches all limitations except that it does not teach a game board with the game pieces.

Grossman teaches providing game board with game pieces (abstract).

In the art area of amusement articles game pieces have multiple uses. Commonly they are used in combination of game boards such as betting or wagering boards. Such boards provide a surface for placing game pieces as an indication of the player being active in the game. In order to appropriately play a game, it would have been obvious to provide a playing surface, in this case a board. One of ordinary skill in art at the time the invention was made would have suggested providing a playing surface to appropriately play the game.
